

PSYCHOLOGY

BACHELOR OF ARTS

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
SPRINGFIELD

ONLINE

The goal of the Psychology Department's curriculum at UIS is to help students become familiar with common theoretical and research perspectives while also studying topics of particular interest and value that can prepare students for graduate education. A major in psychology also provides students with the fundamental liberal arts perspective and understanding of basic psychological issues appropriate for many entry-level positions in business, government, industry, health care, and education.
